

Inject #3: Backups

MAIL FROM: Team 1 "Club Penguin"

SUBJECT: Backup

Hello Circle For The Protection of Antarctica,

As per your request, we have backed up one of our cloud boxes, Pipeline. We decided to store the backup locally because the Wazuh server we planned to store it on is down for unknown reasons that we are looking into currently. The Wazuh seemed like the safest place to store backups, where they could still be accessed as necessary. However we instead have stored the backup locally until access to Wazuh is restored. If you would like us to move backups to somewhere besides the Wazuh please let us know. We were not able to extract backups at this time from either Drill or Tank as a result of box functionalities being missing, namely the search bar. We will continue to look into these machines with the goal of creating these backups at a later time.

Regards,
